The space

Presenting this beautiful blue stone manse property that has been lovingly preserved. Located in Kyneton, northwest of Melbourne, it sits opposite a church that it was originally associated with. A neutral colour palette inside offers a great location for photoshoots and TVCs and series filming.

Main exterior features include the wrought-iron embellished covered verandah that wraps around the building and the lawn which provides functional outdoor space, and at the rear, is overlooked by a covered and tiled entertaining zone. While original window frames and polished timber floorboards have been restored to their original glory, the remainder of the interior has been elegantly refurbished with modern bathroom and kitchen features and sympathetically styled living, dining and bedroom zones. Large windows in every room of the house invite natural light in and the light-coloured palette of the paints and furnishings encourages this in all spaces. An open fireplace creates warmth in the living space and simple light features throughout the house draw the eye. Minimalist furnishings provide a perfect canvas for individualised styling requirements for any event or shoot.
